Worksheet for Chapter 3: Emotional Resilience: Managing Feelings in Tough Times

This worksheet is designed for high school students to reinforce the concepts from Chapter 3 of Adaptability & Resilience Skills in a Changing World. It includes activities to help you reflect on emotional resilience, practice tools for managing feelings, and explore the importance of support systems during tough times. Complete each section with honesty—there are no wrong answers when it comes to understanding your emotions!

Part 1: Identifying and Expressing Emotions (Understanding Your Feelings)

- Emotion Detective: Think about a recent setback (like a bad grade, argument, or disappointment). Use the idea of an “emotion wheel” to name 2-3 specific emotions you felt. If you’re unsure, start with basic feelings (sad, mad, scared) and get more specific (disappointed, frustrated, anxious).
 - Setback: _____
 - Emotion 1: _____
 - Emotion 2: _____
 - Emotion 3 (if applicable): _____ Reflection: Did naming these emotions help you understand the situation better? Why or why not?
- Body Scan Check-In: Recall that same setback or another tough moment. Where did you feel it in your body (e.g., tight chest, upset stomach, heavy shoulders)? What might that tell you about your emotions?
 - Where I Felt It: _____
 - What It Might Mean: _____ Reflection: Does paying attention to your body help you connect to your feelings?
- Express It Challenge: Pick one way to safely express a tough emotion you’ve felt recently (e.g., talk to someone, write it out, scream into a pillow, draw it). Describe what you did or plan to do and how it feels (or might feel) after.
 - Method Chosen: _____
 - What Happened (or Will Happen): _____
 - How It Felt (or Might Feel): _____

Part 2: Techniques to Calm Your Mind (Practicing Skills)

- Mindfulness Moment (5-4-3-2-1): Try the “5-4-3-2-1” mindfulness trick right now or during a stressful moment. List what you notice in your surroundings.
 - 5 Things I See: _____

- 4 Things I Can Touch: _____
- 3 Things I Hear: _____
- 2 Things I Smell: _____
- 1 Thing I Taste: _____

Reflection: Did this help you feel more grounded? Why or why not?

- Breathing Reset: Practice “Box Breathing” for 1-2 rounds (inhale 4, hold 4, exhale 4, hold 4). Describe when you did it and how your body or mind felt after.

- When I Tried It: _____

- How I Felt After: _____ Reflection: Could this be useful during stress (like before a test or argument)?

- Mini Journal Dump: Write for 2-3 minutes about something stressing you out right now or a tough moment from the past week. No rules—just let it flow. (Use the space below or a separate sheet if needed.)

Reflection: Did writing help clear your mind or lighten the load?

Part 3: Building Your Support Squad (Connection Matters)

- Who's in Your Corner? List 2-3 people (friends, family, mentors) you trust to support you during tough times. Write why you trust them or how they help.

- Person 1: _____

Why/How They Help: _____

- Person 2: _____

Why/How They Help: _____

- Person 3 (optional): _____

Why/How They Help: _____ Reflection: How does it feel knowing you have these people to lean on?

- Ask for Support Plan: Think of a current struggle or hypothetical tough time. What kind of help do you need (e.g., someone to listen, advice, distraction)? Who would you ask, and how would you ask them?

- Struggle: _____

- Type of Help Needed: _____

- Who I'll Ask: _____

- How I'll Ask (exact words if possible): _____ Reflection: Does planning this make reaching out feel easier?

- Give Back Moment: Think of a friend or family member who might be struggling. How can you check in on them this week (e.g., text, quick chat, small gesture)? Write your plan.

- Who I'll Check On: _____

- How I'll Do It: _____ Reflection: How might supporting them strengthen your bond?

Part 4: Creative and Fun Application (Make It Personal)

- Meme Your Mood: Create or describe a meme that captures an emotion you've felt during a tough time. It can be funny, relatable, or inspiring.

- Meme Idea or Caption: _____

- Visual Description (if not drawing): _____ Reflection: Did making light of the emotion help you process it?

- Tough Times Codeword: With a friend or group, come up with a funny or random codeword to signal when someone needs support (like “pineapple”). If you haven’t set one up yet, brainstorm one here.

- My Codeword Idea: _____
- Who I’ll Share It With: _____

Bonus: Personal Resilience Goal

- 5-Day Challenge: Pick one tool or technique from this chapter (e.g., breathing, journaling, reaching out to someone) to try for 5 days. Write your plan and track your progress below.

- Tool/Technique Chosen: _____
- How I’ll Practice It Daily: _____
- Day 1 Notes (How I Felt): _____
- Day 2 Notes: _____
- Day 3 Notes: _____
- Day 4 Notes: _____
- Day 5 Notes: _____

Student Reflection (After Completion): On a scale of 1-5, how confident do you feel about managing your emotions during tough times after completing this worksheet? (1 = Not confident, 5 = Very confident) Circle: 1 2 3 4 5 Why? _____
