Worksheet for Chapter 10: Capstone Project – Your Creative Portfolio

Instructions: Complete each section below to build and celebrate your creative portfolio as outlined in Chapter 10. Keep it real—use your own style and ideas! This should take about 20-30 minutes. Share with a friend, teacher, or mentor if you want feedback or just to show off. Let's make your portfolio awesome!

Part 1: Compiling Your Best Work (5 minutes)

Goal: Pick your top pieces to showcase in your portfolio. Task: Think of 3-5 pieces of writing (stories, poems, journal entries) you've done in this course or before. List them below and write one reason why each deserves to be in your portfolio (e.g., it's funny, raw, or shows a skill). If you don't have pieces yet, brainstorm ideas for what you'd like to include.

- Piece 1 (Title or Idea): _____
 - Why Include It? _____
- Piece 2 (Title or Idea): _____
 - Why Include It? _____
- Piece 3 (Title or Idea): _____
 - Why Include It? _____
- Quick Reflection (1 sentence): Which piece are you most proud of and why?

Part 2: Reflecting on Your Growth as a Writer (5 minutes)

Goal: Think about how you've improved as a writer. Task: Write a short 2-3 sentence reflection about your growth. Compare how you wrote or felt about writing at the start of this course (or earlier) to now. Mention one skill or mindset that's changed.

- My Reflection: _____
- Quick Reflection (1 sentence): How does it feel to see your progress—surprising, exciting, or something else?

Part 3: Presenting Your Portfolio to Peers or Mentors (5 minutes)

Goal: Plan how to share your portfolio with others. Task: Decide who you'd like to show your portfolio to (a friend, teacher, family, or class) and how (in person, online, printed). Write a quick 1-2 sentence intro you'd say to explain your portfolio.

- Who I'll Share With: _____
- How I'll Share It (Format): _____

- My Short Intro:
- Quick Reflection (1 sentence): How do you feel about sharing your work—nervous, pumped, or something else?

Part 4: Planning Your Future as a Creative Writer (5 minutes)

Goal: Dream about your writing future and set a small goal. Task: Imagine your ultimate writing dream (e.g., publishing a book, writing for a show). Then, pick one small step you can take in the next month to get closer (e.g., join a club, write weekly, research contests).

- My Big Writing Dream (1 sentence):
- One Small Step This Month (1 sentence):
- Quick Reflection (1 sentence): How does setting this goal make you feel about your writing future?

Bonus Challenge (Optional): Pick one section of this worksheet and take a real step this week—like polishing a piece for your portfolio, sharing it with someone, or starting your small goal. Write 1 sentence on what you did and how it went.

Wrap-Up Note: Great job, teen writer! Building your portfolio is a huge deal—it's your voice, your growth, and your dreams all in one place. Keep this worksheet with your portfolio as a reminder of how far you've come. Pick one idea from this worksheet to act on soon—your writing journey is just getting started!
