Worksheet for Chapter 1: Introduction to Cultural Competency

Hey, students! Get ready to dive into the world of cultural competency with this fun and interactive worksheet for Chapter 1. Instead of tons of writing, we've got quick, engaging activities to help you explore culture, bust stereotypes, and reflect on your own background. Let's make learning about diversity a blast!

Part 1: Culture Quick Quiz (Circle & Connect)

Let's test your basics with a fast, no-stress quiz. Circle the best answer for each question, then connect it to your life with a one-sentence thought!

- What is cultural competency? a) Knowing every culture in the world b) Interacting respectfully with people from different backgrounds c) Ignoring differences to treat everyone the same Your Thought: How can you use this in school? _____
- Why challenge stereotypes? a) They help us understand people better b) They limit how we see others and can be harmful c) They are always true Your Thought: Name one stereotype you've heard.

Part 2: Cultural Food Match-Up & Share (Fun with Flavors!)

Food is a tasty way to explore culture! Match these popular Indian dishes to their vibe, then share a food from your own background.

Matching Game: Indian Food Vibes Draw a line from the food to its matching description. No long answers needed—just connect!

- Biryani - A sweet, spiral treat for Diwali, full of festive joy.
- Ladoo - A savory snack with spiced filling, loved across India.
- Samosa - A rice dish with meat or veggies, big for Eid celebrations.
- Puri - A round sweet for weddings and happy occasions.
- Jalebi - A fried bread for festivals like Holi, tied to rituals.

Your Food Share: What's one food from your family or culture that you love? (e.g., a holiday dish or comfort food)

- Food Name: _____
- Why It's Special: (One sentence!) _____

Bonus Fun: If you're in a group, swap food stories with a classmate. Did you discover a new dish to try?

Part 3: Stereotype Smasher (Quick Scenario)

Stereotypes can mess with how we see people. Let's smash one with a quick scenario!

Scenario: A classmate sees Priya, who's Indian, and says, "Bet you only eat spicy curry at home!" Priya laughs but seems uneasy.

Your Turn (Short & Sweet):

- What's the stereotype here? (One phrase) _____
- Smash it! Suggest one cool way to respond nicely and set the record straight. (e.g., ask a question or share a fact)

Part 4: Mirror Moment (Quick Self-Reflection)

Time to look at YOU! Answer these with short, honest thoughts to see how culture shapes your world.

- What's one cool thing from your culture or family? (e.g., a tradition, holiday, or habit)
- Ever judged someone too fast based on looks or background? Pick one word to describe how you felt after learning more about them. (e.g., surprised, curious, sorry) Word: _____

Part 5: Culture Quest (Mini Mission)

Your Challenge: Over the next few days, spot one cultural difference around you (a food, greeting, or custom). Ask a quick question about it to learn more. Jot down one fun fact or feeling from the chat!

- What I Noticed: _____
- Cool Fact or Feeling: _____

Extra Spark: Snap a pic (if appropriate) or doodle what you saw/learned on the back of this sheet to share with the class!
