Worksheet for Chapter 5: Global Issues and Interconnectedness

Objective: To help students understand global challenges, cultural perspectives, the impact of globalization, and their role as youth in solving worldwide issues through reflection, critical thinking, and actionable activities.

Part 1: Understanding Global Issues

Instructions: Reflect on the major global challenges discussed in the chapter. Answer the following questions with 2-3 sentences each, using examples from the chapter or your own observations.

- Climate Change: How does climate change impact regions like India, as mentioned in the chapter (e.g., droughts or flooding)? Have you noticed any local weather changes that might connect to this issue?
- Choose Another Issue: Select one other global issue from the chapter (poverty, migration, or conflict). Describe how it affects people worldwide and provide a specific example (like Syrian refugees or border tensions in India). Why do you think it's important to address?

Part 2: Cultural Perspectives on Global Problems

Instructions: Explore how different cultures view and address global issues. Complete the table below with examples from the chapter.

Part 3: Impact of Globalization

Instructions: Analyze how globalization connects and challenges cultures. Answer the following questions with 2-3 sentences each.

- Benefits of Globalization: Describe one positive effect of globalization from the chapter (e.g., access to Indian spices globally or Bollywood on YouTube). How has this personally impacted your life, like a product or trend you enjoy?
- Challenges of Globalization: What is one downside of globalization discussed in the chapter (e.g., cultural erosion in India with younger generations adopting jeans)? Have you seen a local tradition or business struggle due to global influences?

Mini-Activity: Spot a globalized item in your life (like a phone or food). Write down where it's from and how it connects to your culture. Share with a classmate if possible.

Item & Connection: _____

Part 4: Youth Role in Global Solutions

Instructions: Reflect on how you, as a teen, can contribute to solving global issues. Answer the questions below with 2-3 sentences each.

- Raising Awareness: How can you use social media or school events to spread awareness about a global issue (like climate change or poverty in India)? Mention an idea inspired by the chapter, such as a hashtag campaign.
- Taking Action: What's one small action from the chapter (like joining a cleanup in India's Swachh Bharat style or skipping meat one day) that you could start to help a global issue? Why do you think it could make a difference?

Creative Task: Imagine you're starting a school club to tackle a global issue (e.g., climate change or child rights). Write or sketch a quick plan for your first meeting—what's your goal, and how will you get peers involved? Use the space below or continue on the back if needed.

Plan or Sketch: _____

Part 5: Cross-Cultural Scenario

Instructions: Read the scenario below and answer the questions to apply what you've learned.

Scenario: Your school is hosting a "Global Action Day." There's a booth on climate change with info about India's river pollution and another on globalization showing how fast fashion harms local weavers worldwide. You want to engage with both but aren't sure how to contribute meaningfully.

- How could you interact with the climate change booth to learn about India's river issues and share ideas for action? (2-3 sentences)
- What steps could you take at the globalization booth to understand the impact on local weavers and suggest a supportive action (like buying fair trade)? (2-3 sentences)

Part 6: Critical Thinking Question

Instructions: Answer the following question in 3-5 sentences to reflect on the importance of global interconnectedness.

How can understanding global issues and cultural perspectives from this chapter help you in school projects, friendships, or future goals? Use an example like organizing a cleanup inspired by Swachh Bharat or working with diverse peers on a global challenge.
