Worksheet for Chapter 1: Introduction to Entrepreneurship for Teens

Objective: To reinforce key concepts from Chapter 1 through creative exercises, critical thinking activities, and practical planning.

Instructions:

This worksheet is designed to help you internalize the ideas from Chapter 1. Complete each section thoughtfully. Use a notebook or separate sheet if you need more space. Be honest and creative—there are no wrong answers in brainstorming! Once done, discuss your responses with a friend, family member, or teacher to gain new perspectives.

Part 1: Mindset Exploration

Think about the mindset traits of a young entrepreneur (resilience, creativity, problem-solving) and how they apply to you. Answer the following prompts in 2-3 sentences each.

- Resilience in Action: Describe a situation where you had to bounce back from a setback (like a tough school project or a personal challenge). How can this ability to keep going help you if a business idea doesn't work out at first?
- Creativity Spark: What is one way you've solved a problem or done something differently from others (e.g., a unique art style or a clever shortcut)? How could this creativity give your future side hustle a unique edge?
- Problem-Solving Power: Think of a time you figured out a solution to a tricky situation (like organizing a group task or fixing something broken). How can this skill help you manage challenges in a small business?

Part 2: Inspiration from Teen Entrepreneurs

Reflect on the stories of teen entrepreneurs like Tilak Mehta and Mikaila Ulmer. Use these prompts to connect their experiences to your own potential.

- Inspired by Success: Which teen entrepreneur's story (Tilak or Mikaila) motivated you more, and why? What is one thing about their journey that makes you think, "I could do something like that"?
- Spotting Opportunities: Both Tilak and Mikaila solved everyday problems (delivery delays and saving bees). What is one problem in your own life or community that you think needs a solution, and how might you address it?
- Dream Big: If you could start a business inspired by their stories, what would it be? Describe your dream venture in a few sentences, even if it feels far-fetched right now.

Part 3: Creative Brainstorming

Let your imagination run wild! Use the prompts below to come up with ideas and solutions.

- Identify a Problem: Think about a small problem in your school, neighbourhood, or daily life (e.g., no quick snacks during breaks, slow internet, or boring weekends). Write down one problem you'd like to solve.
Problem: _____
- Propose a Solution: How could you turn this problem into an opportunity for a side hustle? Describe a simple business idea to address it (e.g., a snack delivery service or a weekend game club). Idea:

- Make It Unique: How can you make your idea stand out from others? Think of one creative twist (like unique packaging, a cool name, or a social media strategy). Unique Twist:

Part 4: Action Plan

Starting small is key! Set a mini-goal to kickstart your entrepreneurial journey based on what you've learned in this chapter.

- My "Why": What excites you most about starting a hustle as a teen (e.g., earning money, building skills, or gaining confidence)? Write down one reason.

- First Step: What is one small action you can take this week to explore entrepreneurship (e.g., research a hustle idea online, talk to a friend about a skill, or watch a video on side hustles)? Action:

- Timeline: When will you complete this step? Set a specific day and time. Date & Time:
