Please complete all activities in this worksheet. Write your answers in the spaces provided or on separate sheets if needed.

Worksheet for Chapter 1: Introduction to Health & Wellness

This worksheet is designed for high school students to reinforce the concepts covered in Chapter 1: Introduction to Health & Wellness. It includes a variety of fun and interactive activities to encourage reflection, critical thinking, and application of the material. Complete each section thoughtfully and get ready to share your ideas with classmates!

Part 1: Vocabulary Match-Up

Match the following terms from Chapter 1 to their correct definitions. Write the letter of the definition next to the corresponding term.

- Wellness _____
- Physical Health _____
- Mental Health _____
- Emotional Health _____
- a. How you manage your feelings and handle the ups and downs of life, like dealing with stress or sadness. b. A state of thriving that balances physical, mental, and emotional aspects of your life. c. The condition of your body, including energy levels, nutrition, sleep, and activity. d. The state of your mind, including how you think, focus, and cope with challenges like school stress.

Part 2: True or False Brain Teaser

Read each statement below and circle whether it is True or False based on the information in Chapter 1. Think about why you chose your answer!

- Wellness only focuses on physical health, like exercising and eating well. True / False
- Good health can improve your school performance by helping you focus and stay energized. True / False
- Skipping meals is a healthy way to lose weight quickly for events like homecoming. True / False
- Setting small, specific wellness goals is more effective than making big, vague changes all at once. True / False

Part 3: Personal Reflection and Goal Setting Challenge

Let's make wellness about YOU! Reflect on your own habits and set a cool goal to level up your health game.

- Reflection: Think about how you're doing right now. What's one thing you're already awesome at in your physical, mental, or emotional health? What's one thing you want to work on?
 - I'm Awesome At: _____
 - I Want to Work On: _____

- Goal Setting Challenge: Set one small, specific wellness goal for yourself (like “drink a water bottle before lunch” or “take a 5-minute break when stressed”). How will you keep track of it, and who can you team up with for support?
 - My Goal: _____
 - How I’ll Track It: _____
 - My Support Buddy: _____

Part 4: Wellness Scenarios – What Would You Do?

Read the following scenarios inspired by Chapter 1. Choose the best response for each situation and write a quick reason why you picked it. There’s no single “right” answer—think about what fits the wellness ideas we’ve learned!

- Scenario 1: You’ve got a huge project due tomorrow, and you’re super stressed. You haven’t slept well in days. What’s your move? a) Chug an energy drink and pull an all-nighter to finish it. b) Take a 10-minute break to breathe or watch a funny video, then work for an hour before sleeping. c) Ignore it and play video games to forget the stress.
 - My Choice: _____
 - Why I Chose It: _____
- Scenario 2: Your friend wants to skip lunch every day this week to “look good” for a school dance. You’ve read about health myths in Chapter 1. What do you say or do? a) Tell them it’s a great idea and join them to skip meals too. b) Share that skipping meals can mess with energy and suggest grabbing a healthy snack together instead. c) Say nothing because it’s their choice, not yours.
 - My Choice: _____
 - Why I Chose It: _____
- Scenario 3: You’ve been feeling down after not making a sports team, and it’s hard to talk about. What’s a healthy way to handle this? a) Keep it to yourself and pretend everything’s fine. b) Vent on social media and post about how unfair it was. c) Talk to a friend or family member, or write your feelings in a journal to process them.
 - My Choice: _____
 - Why I Chose It: _____
- Scenario 4: You want to start moving more but don’t know where to begin. What’s a small step to kick things off? a) Sign up for a marathon next week even though you’ve never run before. b) Start with a 15-minute walk or dance session a few times this week while listening to music. c) Decide to wait until you have more time next year to start.
 - My Choice: _____
 - Why I Chose It: _____

Bonus Fun Activity (Optional): Design a “Wellness Win” for one day this week to support your goal from Part 3. List three simple actions you’ll take (e.g., pack a fruit for a snack, do a quick stretch, text a friend for a laugh).
