Catch Some Z's Worksheet for Chapter 4

Ready to level up your sleep game? This worksheet is all about diving into Chapter 4—figuring out why sleep is your secret weapon, how much you need, crafting a bedtime routine that works, and tackling screen time and stress to snooze better. It's loaded with fun, hands-on activities to connect sleep to your crazy teen life. Grab a pen, get cozy, and let's make rest your reset button. Work on this solo or with a friend for extra vibes!

Part 1: Sleep Superpowers – Why It Matters to YOU

Goal: Uncover how sleep boosts your body, mood, and brain, and relate it to your daily grind. Instructions: Based on Section 1, list one way sleep helps each area below for a teen like you. Then, write a personal example of how you've felt this benefit (or want to) in your own life. Keep it real!

Benefit Area	How Sleep Helps	Your Personal Example or Goal
Physical Health/Growth
Mood/Emotions
Focus/School Performance

Focus/School Performance

Reflection Question: Which sleep benefit are you most hyped about, and why? (Example: "I want better focus because I keep zoning out in math.")

Part 2: Sleep Stats – How Much Do You Need?

Goal: Figure out your ideal sleep target and understand why it's tough to get as a teen. Instructions: Using Section 2, answer the questions below to personalize your sleep goal. Think about your schedule and how you feel day-to-day.

- Your Sleep Target: Teens need 8-10 hours nightly. If you wake up at 7 AM for school, what time should you sleep to hit at least 8 hours? Answer: _____
- Your Current Reality: How many hours do you usually get on school nights? Be honest!
Answer: _____
- Sleep Debt Check: Do you feel refreshed when you wake up, or like a zombie? Do you crash during the day? Write one sign you might not be getting enough sleep. Answer: _____

Reflection Question: What's one thing making it hard to get 8-10 hours (like early alarms or late homework)? How could you tweak your schedule to add even 30 more minutes of sleep?

Bonus Challenge: Track your sleep for 2 nights. Write down when you went to bed, woke up, and how many hours you got. Did you hit your target? How'd you feel each morning?

- Night 1: Bedtime _____ Wake-up _____ Hours _____ Feeling _____
- Night 2: Bedtime _____ Wake-up _____ Hours _____ Feeling _____

Part 3: Build Your Ultimate Bedtime Routine

Goal: Create a chill routine to fall asleep faster and rest deeper. Instructions: Using tips from Section 3, design a 30-60 minute pre-sleep plan that fits your vibe. Pick a consistent bedtime based on your wake-up (aim for 8-10 hours). Then, list 2-3 calming activities to do before bed and set up your sleep zone. Write it out below.

- My Target Bedtime: _____ (Work backward from wake-up time)
- Wind-Down Start Time: _____ (30-60 min before bedtime)

Reflection Question: What's one sleep saboteur (like late caffeine or messy bed) you'll avoid in your routine? How will you replace it with something chill?

Bonus Challenge: Try your routine for 2 nights. Jot down how long it took to fall asleep and if you felt more rested. Did it work?

Part 4: Beat Sleep Stealers – Screens and Stress

Goal: Identify how screens and stress mess with your sleep and plan hacks to fight back. Instructions: Based on Section 4, answer the questions below with strategies that fit your life. Think about your phone habits and what stresses you out at night.

Sleep Stealer	How It Affects Me	My Hack to Manage It
Screen Time (Phones, etc.)

Stress (Worries, Overthinking)
--------------------------------	--	--

Sleep Stealer

How It Affects Me

My Hack to Manage It

Screen Time (Phones, etc.)

Stress (Worries, Overthinking)

Reflection Question: What's the hardest sleep stealer for you to tackle (screens or stress), and why? Pick one hack from above to try this week—how will you make it stick?

Bonus Challenge: Set a “no screen” rule 30 minutes before bed for 3 nights OR do a 5-minute brain dump of worries before sleeping. Write down if you noticed a difference in falling asleep or feeling calmer.

Part 5: Personal Sleep Goal – Level Up Your Rest!

Goal: Set a small, achievable sleep goal for the next week based on Chapter 4. Instructions: Pick ONE realistic change to try. It could be hitting 8 hours for 5 nights, cutting screens before bed, or doing a wind-down activity. Write your goal, your plan to make it happen, and who (if anyone) will keep you on track.

- My Sleep Goal: _____
- How I'll Make It Happen (Specific Plan): _____
- My Support Squad (Friend/Family/None): _____

Reflection Question: Why did you pick this goal? How do you think you'll feel after crushing it?

Bonus Fun Activity: Sleep Squad Challenge!

Goal: Make sleep a team effort with a friendly vibe check. Instructions: Team up with a friend, sibling, or classmate for a “Sleep Streak Showdown.” Each of you picks a sleep goal (like no phone after 9 PM or 8 hours nightly) and tries it for 3 days. Check in daily to see who sticks to it best. Describe your challenge below:

- My Goal & Partner: _____
- What We Did Each Day:
 - Day 1: _____
 - Day 2: _____
 - Day 3: _____
- Who Won & Why? (Most Consistent, Most Creative, etc.): _____
- Pic or Proof (Optional): Snap a pic of your sleep setup or sketch a sleepy selfie!

Wrap-Up: Awesome job powering through this worksheet! You've just boosted your sleep skills by discovering why it's a game-changer, setting your sleep target, building a bedtime routine, and tackling screen time and stress. Keep this sheet to track your personal goal, and share your fave part (like your routine or showdown) with a friend or on socials with #SleepSquad. Remember, every extra minute of rest makes you sharper and stronger. What's one sleep hack you're pumped to try after this?
