Worksheet for Chapter 9: Making Informed Health Decisions

Hey, high school legends! Welcome to the ultimate Chapter 9 Worksheet—your mission hub for mastering informed health decisions. Life as a teen is like playing a high-stakes game with peer pressure traps, media myths, self-advocacy quests, and future-building challenges. This worksheet isn't just paper—it's your battle plan to dodge risks, bust fads, speak up, and stack habits for a killer tomorrow. Packed with fun activities, real-world scenarios, and a dash of creativity, you'll level up your health game while vibing with your unique style. Grab a pen, blast some hype tunes, and let's make smart choices your superpower!

Mission 1: Peer Pressure Dodge – Build Your Defense Shield

Objective: Equip yourself to handle peer pressure and risky choices by crafting personal strategies to say “no” with confidence. Task: Imagine you're a “Pressure Dodger” in a video game, facing traps like vaping at a party or skipping meals to fit in. Design your Defense Shield below with a cool name and one key trait (like “unbreakable humor”). Then, pick a peer pressure scenario you've faced or might face. Write a quick “no” script using humor or an exit line to shut it down without drama.

- Shield Name: (e.g., “Vape Vaporizer Shield”) _____
- Key Trait: (e.g., “Savage Comebacks”) _____
- Pressure Scenario: (e.g., “Friends pushing me to vape at a hangout.”)
- My “No” Script: (e.g., “Nah, my lungs are VIP—only pizza fumes allowed!”)

Bonus Challenge: Practice your script out loud with a friend or in the mirror to nail that confident vibe. How did it feel to say it?

Mission 2: Fad Buster Detective – Crack the Media Myth Code

Objective: Sharpen your skills to separate health facts from fads by investigating a trendy diet or challenge you've seen online. Task: You're a “Health Hype Detective” tasked with busting sketchy media trends. Pick one health fad you've spotted on TikTok, Insta, or elsewhere (like a detox tea or crash diet). Name your detective alias below, then write 3 questions you'd ask to check if it's legit (think source, science, or risks). Finally, guess if it's fact or fad and why.

- Detective Alias: (e.g., “Fad Slayer Finn”) _____
- Health Fad/Trend: (e.g., “3-Day Juice Cleanse”) _____
- Question 1: (e.g., “Is this backed by doctors or just influencers?”) _____
- Question 2: (e.g., “What are the side effects for teens?”) _____
- Question 3: (e.g., “Does it promise unrealistic quick results?”) _____
- Fact or Fad? Why?: (e.g., “Fad—quick fixes aren't sustainable.”)

Bonus Challenge: Look up your trend on a trusted site like TeensHealth.org or Mayo Clinic. Was your guess right? Jot down one fact you learned!

Mission 3: Self-Advocacy Warrior – Voice Your Needs Loud

Objective: Build your confidence in speaking up for your health needs by creating a warrior persona and practicing a real-life “ask.” Task: Picture yourself as a “Self-Advocacy Warrior” who fearlessly communicates needs to adults or peers. Design your warrior identity below with a name and battle cry. Then, think of a health or stress need you’ve got right now (like more study help or mental health support). Write a short script using an “I” statement to ask a specific person (teacher, parent, friend) for what you need.

- Warrior Name: (e.g., “Need-Ninja Nora”) _____
- Battle Cry: (e.g., “My voice, my power!”) _____
- My Health/Stress Need: (e.g., “I’m overwhelmed with homework.”)
- Person to Ask: (e.g., “My math teacher”) _____
- My Ask Script: (e.g., “I’m feeling swamped with assignments—can we talk about an extension?”)

Bonus Challenge: Pick a calm moment this week to use your script IRL (or role-play with a buddy). Write down how it went—did you feel heard or need a retry?

Mission 4: Future Habit Architect – Design Your Tomorrow

Objective: Lay the foundation for a healthy future by picking a small habit to start now and planning how to stick with it. Task: You’re a “Future Habit Architect” building the blueprint for an epic adult life. Create your architect title below. Choose one health habit from Chapter 9 (like better sleep, nutrition, or stress management) to focus on. Write why it matters for your future self (think college, dreams, energy). Then, plan a tiny step to start this week and how you’ll track it.

- Architect Title: (e.g., “Sleep Structure Sam”) _____
 - Chosen Habit: (e.g., “Getting 8 hours of sleep”) _____
 - Why It Matters for Future Me: (e.g., “Better focus for college exams.”)
 - Tiny Step This Week: (e.g., “Phone off by 10:30 PM nightly.”) _____
 - How I’ll Track It: (e.g., “Mark days I succeed on my calendar.”) _____
- Bonus Challenge: Team up with a friend to build the same habit and check in after 3 days. Did having a buddy make it easier or more fun?

Final Victory Lap: Health Decision Champion Anthem & Reflection

Objective: Celebrate your journey to smarter health choices with a personal anthem and reflect on your biggest takeaway from this chapter. Task: Pick a “Health Decision Champion Anthem”—a song that screams “I’m unstoppable!” to you (think something empowering or hype). Write it below. Then, answer the reflection question to lock in what clicked most about making informed health decisions.

- Champion Anthem: (e.g., “Born This Way by Lady Gaga”) _____
- Reflection Question: What’s one lesson from Chapter 9 (peer pressure, media fads, self-advocacy, or future habits) that hit home for you, and how will you use it to own your health choices?

Bonus Challenge: Play your anthem for a minute after finishing this worksheet and do a quick victory pose or dance move to claim your health decision power!

Final Pep Talk: You’re not just filling out a worksheet—you’re crafting a game plan to rule your health decisions! Every mission you tackle here makes you stronger against pressure, smarter about media, bolder in speaking up, and ready for a future you’ll crush. High school’s wild, but you’ve got the skills to make choices that keep you thriving. Keep owning your power, champ!
