Worksheet for Chapter 5: Mastering the Interview Process

Instructions: Complete this worksheet to practice and apply the strategies discussed in Chapter 5. Use a notebook, digital document, or printout to write your answers. Share your responses with a friend, family member, or teacher for feedback if possible. Let's get ready to crush those interviews!

Part 1: Before the Interview - Planning and Preparation

Objective: Build habits for effective preparation to approach interviews with confidence.

- Timing Plan Think about a mock or real interview you might have soon (or imagine one). Answer the following:
 - Where is the interview located (in-person or virtual platform)?
 - How long will it take to get there or set up?
 - What time will you leave or start prepping to arrive/log in 10-15 minutes early?
 - What's one potential obstacle (e.g., traffic, tech issues) and how will you plan for it?
- Essentials Checklist List 3-5 items you'll pack for your next interview (refer to the chapter for ideas). For each item, write why it's important to have with you.
 - Item 1: _____ (Why? _____)
 - Item 2: _____ (Why? _____)
 - Item 3: _____ (Why? _____)
- Nerve-Calming Strategy Choose one nerve-calming trick from the chapter (e.g., breathing hack, power pose, hype playlist). Write which one you'll try and how you'll use it before your next interview.
 - Chosen Trick: _____
 - How I'll Use It: _____

Part 2: During the Interview - Staying Poised and Confident

Objective: Practice techniques to make a great impression and communicate effectively.

- First Impression Practice Write a short script (2-3 sentences) for how you'll introduce yourself at the start of an interview. Include a friendly greeting and a positive tone. Practice saying it out loud in front of a mirror or record yourself to check your smile and energy.
 - My Introduction Script: _____
- STAR Method Story Think of a time you solved a problem or achieved something (school, sports, home, etc.). Write a short story using the STAR method (Situation, Task, Action, Result). Keep it under 1-2 minutes if spoken.

- Situation: _____
- Task: _____
- Action: _____
- Result: _____

- Active Listening Reflection Describe a time you had to listen carefully to someone (a teacher, friend, or family member). How did you show you were paying attention (e.g., nodding, asking questions)? How can you apply this to an interview setting?

- Example: _____
- Application to Interview: _____

Part 3: After the Interview - Follow-Up and Growth

Objective: Develop follow-up etiquette and a growth mindset through reflection.

- Thank-You Note Draft Write a short thank-you email for a mock interview. Use the template from the chapter, personalizing it with a specific detail (e.g., a topic discussed). Include a subject line, greeting, body, and closing.

- Subject: _____
- Email Body: _____

- Self-Reflection Exercise After your next mock or real interview (or imagine one now), answer these questions to learn from the experience:

- What went well? _____
- What felt tricky or challenging? _____
- What's one thing I can improve for next time? _____

- Follow-Up Plan Imagine you've had an interview, and the interviewer said they'd get back to you in 7 days. It's now day 8 with no response. Write a polite, short follow-up email to check in on the decision.

- Follow-Up Email: _____

Part 4: Personal Action Plan - Putting It All Together

Objective: Create a personalized strategy to build interview confidence over time.

- My Interview Game Plan Pick one tip or strategy from each section of Chapter 5 (Before, During, After) that you'll commit to using in your next interview. Write why you chose each and how you'll practice it.

- Before the Interview Tip: _____

(Why? _____)

(How I'll Practice: _____)

- During the Interview Tip: _____

(Why? _____)

(How I'll Practice: _____)

- After the Interview Tip: _____

(Why? _____)

(How I'll Practice: _____)

Final Challenge: Pair up with a friend, sibling, or parent to do a mock interview using your answers from this worksheet. Have them ask you 2-3 common questions (e.g., "Tell me about yourself," "Why do you want this role?”), and use your STAR story and introduction script. Afterward, ask for feedback on your confidence, clarity, and body language. Write down one piece of feedback you received and how you’ll act on it.

- Feedback Received: _____
- How I’ll Improve: _____
