Negotiation Skills Worksheet for Chapter 4: Strategies for Successful Negotiation

This worksheet is a practical tool to help you apply the key concepts from Chapter 4. It includes activities and reflection questions across the chapter's main sections: Preparation, Objectives and Boundaries, Bargaining and Compromise, Handling Difficult Situations, and Role-Playing Scenarios. Complete each section to reinforce your learning and build real-world negotiation skills.

Part 1: Preparation – Build Your Foundation

Objective: Understand the importance of research and planning before a negotiation. Activity – Mini Research

Challenge: Think of a real-life negotiation you might face (e.g., asking a teacher for an extension, negotiating screen time with parents). Answer the following to prepare:

- What is the situation? (Describe briefly)
- What facts or evidence can you gather to support your request? (List at least 3 specific points, like past behaviour, rules, or data)
- What might the other person's objections be? (List 2 possible pushbacks)
- How will you address those objections? (Write a short response for each)

Reflection: How does preparing these points make you feel more confident for the negotiation?

Part 2: Setting Objectives and Boundaries – Know Your Goals and Limits

Objective: Define what you want and what you won't accept in a negotiation. Activity – Goal and Limit Planner:

Using the same situation from Part 1, complete the following:

- My Main Objective: (What do I ideally want to achieve?)
- My Minimum Acceptable Outcome: (What's the least I'll settle for?)
- My Boundary (Non-Negotiable): (What will I absolutely not agree to or give up?)

- My Plan B: (If I can't get my objective, what's my backup plan?)

Reflection: Why is it important to know your boundaries before starting a negotiation?

Part 3: Bargaining and Compromise – Create Win-Win Solutions

Objective: Practice trading value for value to reach fair agreements. Activity – Trade-Off Brainstorm: Imagine you're negotiating in the situation from Part 1. Think of ways to compromise.

- What can I offer the other person to make my request appealing? (List 2 things of value to them, e.g., extra help, a favor, meeting halfway)
- What might I be willing to give up to get closer to my objective? (List 1-2 things)
- Write a short bargaining statement: (Combine your request with an offer, e.g., "If I can have an extra hour of screen time, I'll finish all my homework first.")

Reflection: How does offering something in return help make a negotiation more successful?

Part 4: Handling Difficult Situations – Stay Calm Under Pressure

Objective: Learn to de-escalate conflict and manage tough conversations. Activity – Conflict Response Practice: Think of a time you had a disagreement (or imagine one in your chosen situation). Plan how to handle it using Chapter 4 strategies.

- What might the other person say or do to make the conversation heated? (e.g., raise voice, blame you)
- How will I stay calm? (Choose a technique, like deep breathing or pausing)
- Write an "I" statement to focus on the issue, not the person: (e.g., "I feel frustrated when I'm not heard.")
- When would I walk away if needed? (Set a specific trigger, e.g., if yelling starts)

Reflection: How can staying calm and using "I" statements change the outcome of a conflict?

Part 5: Role-Playing Scenarios – Practice Makes Perfect

Objective: Test your skills in a safe, simulated environment. Activity – Quick Role-Play Plan: Pair up with a friend, sibling, or family member to role-play your situation from Part 1 (or pick a new one, like asking for a later curfew). Plan your approach below, then act it out for 3-5 minutes.

- My Role: (Who am I playing? e.g., student asking for something)
- Other Person's Role: (Who are they? e.g., strict parent)
- Key Points I'll Make: (List 2-3 things from your preparation to say)
- Curveball to Add: (One unexpected challenge the other person throws in, e.g., "I'm too busy to talk.")

Post-Role-Play Notes: (After acting it out, answer these)

- What went well in my negotiation approach?
- What felt hard or didn't work? How can I improve?
- What did I learn from the other person's perspective?

Part 6: Personal Action Plan – Apply It to Real Life

Objective: Commit to using these skills in your daily interactions. Activity – Negotiation Goal Setting:

- One real negotiation I'll try this week: (e.g., asking for help on a project)
- Which Chapter 4 strategy will I focus on? (e.g., preparation, staying calm)
- How will I prepare for it? (Briefly note steps)
- After it happens, I'll reflect by asking myself: (Write 1 question to evaluate your performance, e.g., "Did I stay focused on my objective?")

Final Reflection: How do you think practicing these negotiation strategies will help you in school, with friends, or at home over time?
