Worksheet: Chapter 1 - Introduction to Personal Branding

This worksheet is designed to help you reflect on and apply the concepts from Chapter 1: Introduction to Personal Branding. Complete the activities below to better understand how personal branding works and why it matters for you as a teen. Have fun exploring your unique identity!

Part 1: Self-Reflection - Discovering Your Personal Brand

Objective: Identify key aspects of your personality, skills, and values that can shape your personal brand.

- Describe Yourself in 3 Words: Think about how you want others to see you. Write down three words that best describe who you are (e.g., creative, funny, determined).
 - Word 1: _____
 - Word 2: _____
 - Word 3: _____
- Your Strengths and Passions: List one skill or talent you're proud of (e.g., drawing, gaming, organizing events) and one thing you're passionate about (e.g., animals, music, sports).
 - Skill/Talent: _____
 - Passion: _____
- Feedback Check: Ask a friend or family member to describe you in three words. Write down their answers. Do they match the words you chose for yourself? Why or why not?
 - Their Words: _____
 - Reflection: _____

Part 2: Why It Matters - Connecting Personal Branding to Your Life

Objective: Understand the importance of personal branding for teens and how it impacts your present and future.

- Your Online Presence Snapshot: Look at your most-used social media account (or think about how you act in person if you don't use social media). What does it say about you? Write 2-3 sentences about the "vibe" or impression it gives.
- Future Goals Connection: Write down one goal you have for the next 1-2 years (e.g., getting into a specific club, college, or job). How could a strong personal brand help you achieve this goal?
 - Goal: _____
 - How Personal Brand Helps: _____

Part 3: Personal Branding vs. Online Reputation

Objective: Differentiate between personal branding and online reputation with real-life scenarios.

- Scenario Analysis: Read the scenario below and answer the questions. Scenario: Mia posts regularly on Instagram about her love for baking, sharing recipes and photos of her cakes. She's building a brand as a "teen baker." One day, a friend tags her in a photo from a party where she looks upset, and people comment negatively on it.
 - What is Mia's personal brand in this scenario? _____
 - How might the tagged photo affect her online reputation? _____
 - What could Mia do to protect her personal brand after this incident? _____

Part 4: Action Plan - First Steps to Build Your Brand

Objective: Create a small, actionable plan to start shaping your personal brand.

- One Small Change: Based on what you've learned, think of one thing you can do this week to start building or improving your personal brand. It could be posting about a hobby, cleaning up old posts, or joining a school activity to showcase a skill.
 - My Action Step: _____
 - Why I Chose This: _____
- Quick Google Check: Google your name (or ask a parent/guardian to help if needed). Write down one thing you notice about your online presence. Does it match how you want to be seen?
 - What I Found: _____
 - Does It Match My Desired Brand? (Yes/No and Why): _____

Part 5: Creative Bonus Activity

Objective: Have fun visualizing your personal brand in a creative way.

- Design Your Brand Logo: If your personal brand was a logo or symbol, what would it look like? Draw a quick sketch below (or describe it if you're not into drawing). Think about colors, shapes, or objects that represent you (e.g., a paintbrush for an artist, a basketball for an athlete).
 - Sketch Space (or Description):
