Worksheet: Personal Branding for Future Goals (Chapter 9)

Hey there, future stars! This worksheet is your hands-on guide to Chapter 9: Personal Branding for Future Goals. These exercises are teen-friendly, quick, and meant to get you thinking (and acting!) on building a digital YOU that stands out. Grab a pen, your phone, or a laptop, and let's make your personal brand shine!

Part 1: How Colleges and Employers View Your Online Presence

Let's figure out what your digital footprint says about you to the people who matter.

- Do a Mini Digital Audit: Google your name (add your city if it's common) and look at the first few results. Check your public social media profiles (Insta, TikTok, etc.) as if you're a college admissions officer or employer. Write down:**
  - What's the first thing they'd see about me? (e.g., a sports pic, an old meme)
  - Is there anything I should delete or make private? (e.g., a silly rant)
- Quick Fix Plan: Pick one thing you can do this week to clean up or boost your online presence (e.g., update privacy settings, delete a cringe post). What will you do?

Part 2: Showcasing Achievements and Skills Online

Time to flex your wins and talents in a way that catches the right eyes.

- Pick a Win to Share: Think of one achievement or skill you're proud of (e.g., a good grade, a hobby, a team win). Write down:**
  - What is it? (e.g., "Won 2nd place in a debate competition")
  - What platform would I post it on? (e.g., Instagram, LinkedIn)
  - Draft a short caption with a hashtag. (e.g., "Debate vibes! 2nd place feels good 🏆 #DebateTeen")
- Why Share It? Why do you think posting about your achievements or skills can help with future goals like college or jobs?

Part 3: Creating a Digital Portfolio or Blog

Let's plan a space to show off your best work and passions.

- Brainstorm Your Digital Space: Decide if you'd create a portfolio (for projects) or a blog (for thoughts). Write down:**
  - Would I make a portfolio or blog? (e.g., "Portfolio for my art")
  - What's one piece of content I'd include? (e.g., "A drawing from last month")

- What free platform might I try? (e.g., Wix, WordPress)
- Next Step: What's one small action you can take this week to start building it? (e.g., "Sign up for a free account on Weebly" or "Sketch out how it'd look")

Part 4: Aligning Your Brand with Career or Academic Aspirations

Connect your online vibe to your dreams so it's clear where you're headed.

- Define Your Goal: Pick one career or academic aspiration you're working toward. Write down:**
  - What's my goal? (e.g., "Become a graphic designer")
  - What's one way I can show this online? (e.g., "Post a design I made with #FutureDesigner")
- Engage with Your Field: Name one person, page, or community (like a hashtag or group) related to your goal that you can follow or check out this week. (e.g., "Follow a local artist on Insta")

Part 5: Reflection & Action Plan

Wrap up by thinking about your personal brand and setting a game plan to level it up.

- Biggest Takeaway: What's one thing from this chapter that clicked for you or made you see your online presence differently?
- My Personal Brand Goal for This Week: Pick one small action from any section above to boost your brand. (e.g., "Update my Insta bio to hint at my dream job" or "Post about a recent win")

Bonus Challenge (Optional): Take one step from your action plan or any part of this worksheet and DO IT this week—like posting about a skill, tweaking your privacy settings, or following someone in your dream field. Write down how it felt to take that step toward a future-ready brand. If you're up for it, share your progress with a friend, family member, or classmate for extra hype!

Note to Self: Your personal brand is YOUR story—make it count! Keep this worksheet somewhere you can revisit it in a month to see how far you've come. You've got this!
