Worksheet for Chapter 7: Building a Positive Mindset

Instructions: Complete each section below in a notebook, on your phone, or by discussing with a friend or teacher. Be honest and take your time—there are no wrong answers! These activities are meant to help you connect the chapter's ideas to your own life.

Section 1: Understanding Mindset – Growth vs. Fixed, Challenges, and Mistakes

Reflection Activity – Mindset Makeover (10-15 minutes) Think about how you view your abilities, challenges, and mistakes. Pick one of each from your recent experiences and rewrite your thoughts using a Growth Mindset.

- Negative Thought About a Skill: (e.g., "I'm awful at math.")
 - Fixed Mindset: _____
 - Growth Mindset: _____ (e.g., "Math is hard, but I can improve with practice and help.")
- Current Challenge: (e.g., "Struggling with a group project.")
 - Fixed Mindset: _____
 - Growth Mindset: _____ (e.g., "This project is tough, but I'll learn by splitting tasks and asking questions.")
- Recent Mistake: (e.g., "Forgot to study for a quiz.")
 - Fixed Mindset: _____
 - Growth Mindset: _____ (e.g., "I messed up, but I'll set reminders to study next time.")

Quick Question: How did reframing these thoughts make you feel about tackling them? (Write 1-2 sentences.)

Section 2: Practicing Gratitude and Positivity

Action Activity – Gratitude Snap (5-10 minutes daily for 3 days) For the next 3 days, jot down or snap a photo of 1-2 things you're grateful for each day. It can be small (a kind word, a yummy snack) or big (a good grade, a fun hangout).

- Day 1:
- Day 2:

- Day 3:

Quick Question: After 3 days, did noticing these positives change how you viewed your week, even a little? Why or why not? (Write 1-2 sentences.)

Bonus Step: Tell one person (friend, family, teacher) something you appreciate about them this week. Note how it felt to share positivity.

Section 3: Managing Stress and Emotions

Practical Activity – Stress Slayer Toolkit (15-20 minutes to plan, try over a few days) Build a mini “toolkit” to handle stress and emotions. Complete the steps below, then test it out when you feel stressed.

- Pick a Calm-Down Trick: Choose one technique to try during a stressful moment (e.g., 4-7-8 breathing: inhale 4, hold 7, exhale 8; or 5-4-3-2-1 grounding: name 5 things you see, 4 you touch, etc.).
 - My Trick: _____
 - When I’ll Try It: _____ (e.g., before a test)
 - Backup Plan: List 1-2 people or resources you’d reach out to if emotions feel too heavy.
 - Person/Resource 1: _____
 - Person/Resource 2: _____
 - Daily Mini-Habit: Pick one small stress-buster to do daily for a few days (e.g., 5-minute journal, short walk, hype song).
 - My Habit: _____
 - When I’ll Do It: _____
- Quick Question: After trying your trick or habit, did it help lower your stress, even slightly? What worked or didn’t? (Write 1-2 sentences.)

Wrap-Up: Your Positive Mindset Mission

Creative Reflection – Mindset Avatar (10-15 minutes) Imagine yourself as a “Positive Mindset Avatar”—a superhero powered by Chapter 7 skills! Answer below or draw it if you’re artsy.

- Avatar Name: (e.g., “Stress Smasher”) _____
 - Signature Move: (e.g., “Gratitude Glow Blast”) _____
 - One Real-Life Mission: Pick one thing you’ll tackle this week using your new mindset skills (e.g., “Face my history presentation with grit”).
 - My Mission: _____
- Quick Question: How does thinking of yourself as this avatar make you feel about your mission? (Write 1-2 sentences.)
