Chapter 3 Worksheet: Build Your Group Superpowers!

Instructions: This worksheet is designed to help you think about teamwork, initiative, and leadership in a fun, low-pressure way. You don't need to write long answers—just jot down quick thoughts, check boxes, or discuss with a partner if allowed. Let's dive in and build your group skills!

Part 1: Teamwork Style Snapshot (5 minutes)

Goal: Reflect on how you collaborate in groups. Check the box that best describes your usual role in a team setting. (Pick one or two if you're a mix!)

- Coordinator: I like organizing tasks and keeping everyone on track.
- Brainstormer: I'm full of ideas and love coming up with creative solutions.
- Supporter: I cheer others on and help however I can.
- Doer: I focus on getting tasks done and tackling the work.

Quick Thought (1-2 words): What's one thing you like about working in a group?

Part 2: Initiative Spotter (5 minutes)

Goal: Identify opportunities to step up in everyday situations. Read the mini-scenario below and circle one action you'd take to show initiative. Scenario: You're in a school club, and the group is struggling to decide on a theme for the next event. No one is speaking up with ideas.

- A) Wait for someone else to suggest something.
- B) Say, "How about a movie night theme? What do you all think?" and start a discussion.
- C) Leave the decision to the club president.

Quick Thought (1-2 words): Why did you pick that action?

Part 3: Leadership Mini-Plan (5 minutes)

Goal: Practice thinking like a leader in a small, realistic way. Imagine you're leading a small group to set up a class presentation. Check two things you'd do to guide your team effectively.

- Tell everyone what to do without asking for input.
- Ask, "What are you good at?" to assign tasks based on strengths.
- Stay calm if a teammate forgets their part and help brainstorm a fix.
- Ignore a teammate who disagrees with your idea.

Quick Thought (1-2 words): What's one way you could motivate your team?

Bonus Fun Challenge (Optional, 3-5 minutes)

Goal: Tie it all together with a creative twist. Draw a quick doodle (or describe in 1-2 words) of a “Team Superhero” logo that represents teamwork, initiative, or leadership to you. It could be a shield, lightning bolt, or anything!

(If drawing, use the space below.)

Reflection Moment (No Writing Needed): Think to yourself or chat with a classmate: “Which of these skills (teamwork, initiative, leadership) do I want to try out soon? Where could I use it (class, club, home)?” You’ve got the tools—go shine!
